RELIGUICITY REPRESENTATION OF COVID-19 NEWS IN SUARA MUHAMMADIYAH MAGAZINE: A STUDY OF CRITICAL DISCOURSE

by Zamzani, Siti Maslakhah, Ari Listyorini, Ahmad Wahyudin, Yayuk Eny Rahayu, Nurmalisa, Qori Nur Aini

ABSTRACT

This research has three objectives. First, describe the references found in the news discourse with the theme of Covid-19 in Suara Muhammadiyah magazine. Second, describe the representation of religious values ??in the Covid-19 news discourse in Suara Muhammadiyah magazine. Third, describe the social practices found in the discourse on the Covid-19 theme in Suara Muhammadiyah magazine This research is a qualitative descriptive study using a critical discourse approach. The object of the research is the covid-themed news discourse in Suara Muhammadiyah. Steps to obtain data by recording and analyzing it according to the formulation of the problem. The data analysis technique was carried out qualitatively, using semantic validity, as well as interrater and intrarater reliability. The results of this study are as follows. First, there are 82 references found in the news discourse on Covid-19 in Suara Muhammadiyah magazine which are classified into five groups, namely 1) the Qur'an, 2) hadith and sunnah of the prophet, 3) directives and statements from the government, directives and statements from the government 4) statements from Muhammadiyah figures and officials fatwa, 5) circulars, views and policies from Muhammadiyah. Second, the representation of religious values ??in the Covid-19 news discourse in Suara Muhammadiyah magazine in this study there are 85 religious values ??which are classified into five groups, namely: 1) the relationship between humans and the Creator, 2) the relationship between humans and humans, 3) the relationship between humans and their fellow human beings and creators, 4) the relationship between humans and science and technology, and 5) the relationship between humans and nature.